Tea Time!

Join us for a royal celebration to kick off the Arts at the Academy event at Baden Academy on May 3rd. Meet some of your favorite princesses and superheroes while enjoying delicious treats approved by the Queen, of course! Dressing up as your favorite princess or superhero is definitely recommended, but not required.

Rope drop is promptly at 10am near "Fairy Godmother's Tea Room" (aka "The Atrium" in our activities building). An adult must be in attendance during the event to supervise your children. All children in attendance will receive a special gift if they RSVP before April 30th.

Please use the shuttle provided at Baden Walmart, as there will be no parking available on campus. The buses will run until 2:15pm.

Parenting the ATYPICAL CHILD

Lessons for foster & adoptive parents
- Register Today!

What is this? This workshop is designed for weary foster and adoptive parents, facilitated by local therapist Amy Swigart and adoptive parent Liz Garcia. You will benefit from a wealth of knowledge that combines professional expertise and personal experience.

Why is this different? As parents of children who have faced rough starts in life, you understand the difficulties involved. You may feel alone, misunderstood, and frustrated when your efforts seem ineffective. In this two part workshop you will learn practical tools and get a greater understanding of the child (and behaviors) in your life.
